

GEORGE PAXTON TO PLAY AT PLUMBERS' BALL FEB. 18

Vet Meeting At Currie Gym Tomorrow at 8

Federal Govt. Now Studying Brief Proposals

The Executives of all Montreal Universities' student veteran societies will be joined by representatives from two vocational training establishments, when they meet at the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium tomorrow evening, at 8 p.m., to discuss rehabilitation problems. The Commercial College of Rehabilitation of Veterans, a local government-operated school, and the Maurice Dress Designing School, are both sending delegates to join those from the University of Montreal, Sir George Williams College, Loyola College, Dawson College, and McGill University.

The city-wide gathering of student veterans will consider means of furthering the decisions of the recent National Conference of Student Veterans. These included raising ex-servicemen's maintenance grants, emergency and long term housing measures, and many improvements in the Government's educational program which have sprung from students' requests. A brief containing the Conference's proposals is now being studied by the Federal Government, where it was accepted for the Minister of Veterans' Affairs Saturday by W. A. Tucker, M.P., and Deputy Minister W. S. Woods.

In line with the recommendations of the Ottawa-Hull Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, and the Dominion Command Canadian Legion, which both pledged support to the student veterans' demands at an Ottawa meeting Friday evening, the Executive of the McGill Student Veterans' Society will advance suggestions that support be solicited from Canadian Legion branches, Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, educational bodies, trade unions, and all interested parties.

It was also announced today that a general meeting of the McGill Student Veterans' Society will be held on Monday, January 28, in the Union Ballroom, at 5 o'clock. On the agenda is a full report from the executive on the National Conference of Student Veterans, its deliberations, recommendations, and subsequent activities; an account of the recent Ottawa trip by J. L. Starkey and other executives of the N.C.S.V., and the presentation of the student veterans' proposals to the Government; and a resolution in connection with the commutation of Gen. Kurt Meyer's sentence.

CUP WIRES

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA forest research tract near Haney is to be used for training students in both practical and technical forestry. Containing 9,600 acres, its size, accessibility, variation of forest sites and variety of timber types and ages make it one of the finest forest schools on the continent. Situated about 40 miles from Campus, it will have a modern camp on Loon Lake costing $35,000.

UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA: In the McGowan debate held here Saturday, on the resolution that the Dominion Government should guarantee employment for all persons willing and able to work at all times, the affirmative argued that the government has a moral responsibility to guarantee full employment which can be done by cyclical budgeting, high taxes in boom periods and low taxes in depressions supplemented by a useful public works program.

The negative side held that government interference would lead eventually to dictatorship, and it was felt that a guarantee of full employment would destroy incentive.

St. John's Theatre Cuts Price For Vets

St. Johns, Que., Jan. 21.—(Special to the Daily.)—The Capital Theatre at St. Johns, Quebec, has reduced its admission price from 40 cents to 25 cents for Dawson College students, it was announced today.

Dawsonites, upon presentation of their athletic cards, will be admitted to the Richelieu Street theatre at these new reduced rates.

The Capital Theatre, a member of Odeon features, changes its double bill three times weekly. Thursday night is photo night at the Capital. The winner of the contest, whose number is selected by members of the audience chosen at random, receives a prize of $100.00.

Dawson Students Given Snack Bar And Bowling Alley

Sundaes, Ice Cream Are To Be Served At Remodelled Counter

St. Johns, Que., Jan. 21.—(Special to the Daily.)—Dawsonites now have the additional facilities of a fully equipped snack bar and bowling alley opening off the main floor of the gymnasium.

At the counter, sundaes, sodas, and ice cream are served while the bowling alleys are in operation every evening. The price charged has been set at ten cents per string.

The bar, which is very popular among the more athletic of the Dawson students, who come in to cool off after a strenuous workout, is decorated in rustic fashion with simulated log walls and a shingled roof.

The fountain was there when McGill took over from the Air Force, but Snack Bar manager Guillon had to carry out extensive repairs, and the bar could not be opened until a week before Christmas. The facilities are under the auspices of the Students' Council, which runs it on a non-profit basis.

"The bowling isn't very well organized as yet, since the balls arrived only a week ago," stated Guillon, "but we intend to start a league in the near future and also to expand the bar to serve hot dogs and coffee as well."

There has been a great deal of effort put forward to effect these innovations, and it is hoped that the students will make full use of the facilities.

300 Students Turn Out to Hear Hon. Brooke Claxton on Taxation

Dominion Taxation, Full Employment, High National Income and Social Security Aim of Dominion-Provincial Conference

By DUSTY VINEBERG.
"I regard myself not only as the member for St. Lawrence-St. George, but as the member for McGill," said the Honorable Brooke Claxton at the first open meeting of the Liberal Club in the Union Ballroom yesterday, and immediately established a sense of fellowship with the 300 students who attended the meeting.

HON. BROOKE CLAXTON

Mr. Claxton seemed far more the McGill graduate speaking with understanding to McGill students, than a busy cabinet minister with little time to spare. The Dominion-Provincial conference, the history of its inception, and its significance was the subject of his address.

THE LEADER OF THE BAND: New name-band leader George Paxton who plays both trombone and saxophone, stepped out from being arranger for Ina Ray Hutton, Charlie Spivak, Vaughn Monroe and others to form his own band. Inside of one year he received the praise of U.S. critics. Straight from the well-known Roseland Ballroom, he comes to the Plumbers' Ball at McGill.

Bishop's University Made CUP Affiliate

The "Campus," a publication issued every two weeks by the University of Bishop's College, has been made an affiliate member of the Canadian University Press. This was announced recently in Lennoxville, the home of the university, by Walter Reise, the managing editor of the Campus.

The decision to accept Bishop's application for the affiliate membership was made at the annual C.U.P. conference, held this year at the University of Western Ontario in London.

Although when formed in 1938 the C.U.P. consisted of only twelve members, at present there are sixteen full members and four affiliates, representing almost all of the camps in Canada.

Student Research Science Award To Be Resumed

H.M.'s Commissioners For 1851 Exhibition Will Give Scholarship

Kingston, Jan. 21.—(CUP)—The Exhibition of 1851 Science Research Scholarship will again be awarded this year, it was recently announced. This award was temporarily discontinued for the duration of the war.

The annual value of this scholarship is £350 sterling, and it is awarded by Her Majesty's Commissioners for the Exhibition of 1851 to students who have given evidence of capacity for original research. A given number of scholarships are awarded annually to students in Canada recommended by the Universities approved by the Commissioners.

Only British subjects will be accepted as nominees, who must as well have been bona fide students of science for three years, and also must have been at the university for a full year immediately before being nominated. Previously, only candidates under twenty-six years of age were eligible but those over this age will now be considered eligible in "special circumstances."

This scholarship is tenable in the United Kingdom for two years, and the scholar must there pursue some investigation likely to promote technical industries or scientific culture.

Varsity Newspaper Appears in New Form

The University of Toronto's Undergraduate daily "The Varsity" will appear for the first time today in a new eight page tabloid form. "The Varsity" in its new form will be published at the Oshawa Times-Gazette plant. Previous issues had been printed on the University of Toronto press.

Hugh Kenner, Varsity editor, believes the new arrangements will make the Toronto paper the largest college newspaper on the continent. Circulation has now jumped from 7,500 to 11,000 copies.

It was also announced that "The Varsity" would be published during the summer term for the benefit of students at the Ajax Engineering School outside of Toronto and for those taking summer courses. Previously, the paper had been published only for the regular university term from September to March.

Paxton Gets High Praise In Short Time

With a short though meteoric history behind him, George Paxton has led his orchestra to fame in that "hard to crash" fraternity of name bands, one of the few to do so since Glenn Miller came through in 1938.

ACCLAIMED AS ARRANGER
Born in Jacksonville, Florida, 30 years ago, George lived in New Jersey during his childhood. It wasn't until after he graduated from high school that Paxton turned his talents to arranging and playing. An accomplished trombonist and saxophonist, George's first assignment was with George Hall's orchestra, then appearing at the Hotel Taft in New York City. Later, he worked with the late Bunny Berigan, Vaughn Monroe, Charlie Spivak and won for himself national acclaim as the "man-behind-the-scenes" with Ina Ray Hutton's orchestra.

OPENS AT ROSELAND
In the summer of 1944, after starting his own band, George began his rapid climb to musical heights, by opening at the Roseland Ballroom in New York, with national radio air-time. His subsequent appearances at the Hotel Lincoln, Capitol Theatre, Cafe Rouge of the Hotel Pennsylvania, scene of Glenn Miller's greatest triumphs, and his appearance at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago attest to his meteoric rise to the heights of popularity.

VOCALISTS
Featured performers with George Paxton's band include Alan Dale, personable boy vocalist, whose inimitable ballads are rated high in the "Battle of the Baritones" and Johnny Bond a featured instrumentalist with the orchestra who doubles on vocals with a bit of novelty and comic antics. Rosemary Calvin is the newest addition to George Paxton's band, and her rendition of the hit songs of the day are helping to bring this new band into first division.

Music critics are hailing George's band primarily because of Paxton's arranging abilities. Comparing Paxton and his work as arranger with that of Glen Miller, Larry Clinton, Duke Ellington or other arranger leaders critics voice the opinion that music's forgotten men, the arrangers, have now come to be known, and what is more recognized for their stylings.

Films to Feature Classic Scores

'Leningrad Musical Hall', 'Toscanini' Films Will Be Shown Today

By A. H.
Co-sponsored by the McGill Film Society and the Music Program Committee are the two feature films, "Toscanini" and "Leningrad Musical Hall." The films are to be presented tonight, January 22, at 5 p.m. in Room 250 of the Biological Building. The presentation is open to the entire student body without charge.

"Toscanini" is an inspiring performance, photographed and recorded superbly. The great conductor is first shown at home as he reads the war news and reflects upon the evil powers loose in the world. He translates his feelings into an interpretation of the imposing score "Hymn to the Nations" by the Italian composer, Giuseppe Verdi. The film is remarkable for the skill with which it has caught Toscanini in his many moods and poses as he conducts the famous N.B.C. symphony orchestra and in a series of notable close-ups, every inflection and gesture of the conductor is caught.

"Leningrad Musical Hall" portrays the world famous music, dances and theatre arts of the Russian people. Presented in a brilliant, captivating film. The musical score is by D. Astradantsev and B. Tillest. The film includes the music of Tchaikovsky's Waltz of the Flowers, Beethoven's Scottish Dhrnk Song,

ROSEMARY CALVIN and ALAN DALE have the main spots in the vocal renditions of the orchestra. Rosemary Calvin recently came to Paxton's group via Vaughn Monroe while Alan Dale, of the Sinatra school, is an "old-timer of the group."

Prof. Fieldhouse Delivers Inaugural Lecture Tonight

Moyse Hall Open to Public to Hear Kingsford Professor Of History; Dr. Vivian to Deliver Inaugural Address on Tuesday, Jan. 29

"War, Peace and History" is the topic of the inaugural lecture of Professor Henry Noel Fieldhouse, Kingsford Professor of History, to be delivered at 8:30 p.m. this evening in Moyse Hall. Dr. F. Cyril James, McGill Principal and Vice-Chancellor, will preside at the lecture which is open to the public to the limit of the seating capacity.

Dr. R. P. Vivian, Professor of Health and Social Medicine, another recent addition to the McGill Faculty, is also scheduled to deliver his inaugural address on Tuesday, January 29, at 8:30 p.m., in Moyse Hall.

Professor Fieldhouse, who is to speak this evening, comes to McGill as the former head of the Department of History at the University of Manitoba and was appointed to the Kingsford Chair of History at McGill in October, 1945. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and Vice-President of the Canadian Historical Association. He served as a Flight Lieutenant in the Royal Air Force from 1917-19. Recognized as an exceptionally competent public speaker, he has also published widely in the field of Modern European History and Current European affairs. In his inaugural address, he will deal not only with recent attempts to organize international peace, but will also show how a study of past history may be used in the analysis of current affairs.

Dr. H. P. Vivian, who will give his inaugural address on Jan. 29, resigned his position as Ontario Minister of Health and Public Welfare to take up his McGill appointment. As Minister of Health and Public Welfare, he had been instrumental in establishing county units for public health administration, founded fact-finding bodies for hospital administration, initiated research in cancer, developed a program of social insurance, augmented the existing services for venereal disease control, and initiated developments in mental hygiene treatment and care. He graduated in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1926 and did postgraduate work at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, Michigan.

Leonard Awards Given Students

Foundation Announces Student Veterans Receive Preference

Scholarships for men and women to study in schools and universities in Canada have again been offered by the Leonard Foundation for the 1946-47 session.

Students to be eligible must be British subjects, of the white race, at least fourteen years of age and a member of the Christian Religion in its Protestant form. Preference in the selection of students will be given to the sons and daughters of clergymen, school teachers, officers, non-commissioned officers and men, active or retired, of all services, graduates of Royal Military College, Canada, Members of the Engineering Institute of Canada and Members of the Mining Metallurgical Institute of Canada. Men and women returning from active service are also given preference over the non-preferred class.

The scholarships are not intended to defray all the expenses of a student's education, but are designed to assist students to enter any of the selected colleges or universities or to continue their studies.

According to a letter issued by T. H. Matthews, Registrar, the University is willing to endorse and forward with its recommendation applications of any candidates who may wish to apply through the university and are approved by it. Such candidates must make their applications on forms obtainable at the Registrar's office and return these to the Registrar on or before the 11th of February.

Two Vocalists Are Featured With Orchestra

Tickets on Sale Starting Feb. 4; Supply Limited

With the announcement that George Paxton and his renowned orchestra will play at the Plumbers' Ball on Monday, February 18, in the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium, the Engineering Undergraduate Society's Plumbers' Ball Committee has entered the post-war era by breaking old traditions.

By importing an American name-band for the Plumbers' Ball, the committee has set a precedent in its social functions. Prior to the war, Canadian bands were the custom of the ball and with war-time restrictions the plumbers united with the medics in the Plumbers-Meds Ball.

VOTED TOP BAND.
In less than a year George Paxton has won the plaudits of the U.S. servicemen. He was voted the most "up and coming danceband of the year" by a 10,000,000 vote conducted through The Billboard, leading U.S. entertainment poll.

Featured with Paxton are Rosemary Calvin and Alan Dale, vocalists with Johnny Bond in instrumental and vocal spots.

SALE OF TICKETS.
Tickets will be made available Monday, Feb. 4, through class representatives. As a limited number will be sold, students are advised to secure their early.

DECORATIONS.
Hanka is in charge of decorations and her designs are being evolved by professional artists. The lighting effects, an outstanding feature of the theme, are being engineered by members of the Electrical Club.

CONTINUAL MUSIC.
Arrangements are completed to provide continual music throughout the evening. Don Cameron and his orchestra will play during the intermission. Dancing will commence at 10 p.m., and continue until 3 a.m. This will afford five hours of varied music, and dancing pleasure.

The two-band arrangement eliminates the former inconvenience of a musicless supper hour.

Local radio stations will feature popular Paxton arrangements and renditions during the coming weeks.

Cost-of-Living Poll

Two hundred veterans have been chosen to answer a cost-of-living questionnaire prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on Thursday, Jan. 24. Lists bearing the names are posted in all faculty buildings, and veterans whose names appear on the various lists are requested to see Miss Orr at the Registrar's Office.

Red Cross Work

by Betty Brewer

Throughout the war, newspapers, magazines and radio alike have told the story of the outstanding service performed by the Red Cross.
Letters from servicemen have told how Red Cross food parcels have saved the lives of men in concentration camps; the people of Britain have declared again and again their gratitude to the organization for its encouragement and material aid all during the war, but particularly throughout the trying months of the "blitz".

None of us need to be reminded of the other diverse service performed by the Red Cross in wartime. But what some of us may have forgotten, that its work does not stop with the cessation of hostilities. On the contrary, the Red Cross is always active and ready to stretch out a helping hand to anyone in need. In time of flood, fire, and earthquake, much suffering is alleviated through its untiring work.

In its 1946 reorganization for peacetime activities, the Canadian Red Cross has planned, among other things, preparedness for just such disasters.
This means the assembling and strategic placing throughout the country of hospital equipment and emergency supplies, to be rushed wherever they may be required.

Home nursing courses are to be organized and outpost nursing services placed in remote areas.
The blood donor service is to be carried on for hospitals, for it has proved that it is invaluable in emergency cases.

Along with this story goes that of the ever-pressing need for funds. At the present time the Canadian Red Cross is not making an appeal for financial assistance, but its work cannot go on without it. It is not the easiest thing in the world to part with $2.00 which is the amount being asked from each student in the forthcoming drive in the University, but think the situation over carefully before you turn your canvaser away. And if at all possible contribute to a cause which no-one can deny is a worthy one.

peace, it seems futile to worry about a flag, which tomorrow may stand for nothing more than a heap of atom-smashed ruins. Let us cooperate with nations of the world to bring to humanity some semblance of law and order instead of building new spiritual barriers which will keep us away from our neighbours, wherever they may be, in completing this all-absorbing task. When the world has become a co-operative for peace we doubt if national flags will matter so much. And on the other hand, if we do not enter into a world co-operative, there will be nothing left for us at which to wave our flags. Atom bombs will destroy a country with or without a Union Jack.

The Dominion-Provincial Conference

A very interesting question was brought up by Mr. Brooke Claxton, Canada's Minister of National Health and Welfare, who spoke to students here last night. Mr. Claxton outlined the government's proposals for the Dominion-Provincial Conference. It is well known that this conference is of the greatest importance to the future of this country; but above all, we find it most gratifying that McGill students had an opportunity to hear the most important points of one side of the conference table from such a well qualified source as Mr. Claxton. Since a great number of the Federal proposals are concerned with National Health and Social Security measures, Mr. Claxton was a most happy choice as speaker.

Looking over the Federal proposals, which are divided into two groups, (I) Transition Measures and (II) The Final Proposals, should be well worth every student's while. Questions of full employment, high wages, a plan for the reorganization of the methods of tax collection and social security measures should be of no small concern to Canadian students.

Having heard the government point of view, we would be most happy to hear the opinion of opposition leaders on the subject. It is to be hoped that the other political clubs of the campus will follow up this interesting subject, and try to bring to the attention of the campus the opinions of those of their leaders who are best qualified to speak on this question. The arguments of both Labour and Capital will be most interesting to hear.

Then too, we hope that it will be possible to hear the point of view of the provincial delegates to the conference. Then, if students will take the trouble to study some of the background material to this conference which is available at the Library, the political clubs will have done McGill a very considerable service.
An excellent start has been made; we hope to see the matter taken up further by all parties concerned.

Flags and Atoms

Every nation has a flag, and since Canada has not got one of her own, Canadians are beginning to clamour for one too. Having decided that they want a flag, Canadians then begin to squabble whether or not the Union Jack should appear in their new flag. Some hold that if Canada is going to have a flag at all, there might as well be no trace of the Union Jack, our previous and borrowed emblem. Others contend, that since we are, after all, a part of the British Empire, whether we like it or not, our Dominion Status should be recognized by the insertion of the British Union Jack.

Although the question of a flag may be very important to the national ego of Canadians, we cannot help feeling that too much emphasis has been put on this question. In these days when the entire future of the world is at stake, when all boundaries and frontiers may suddenly cease to exist because the United Nations cannot get together and build an efficient machinery for

Letter Forum

EXPLANATION
To the Editor,
McGill Daily

Dear Sir:
We should like to thank Mr. D.
W. Clark for his letter; as a member of the McGill Student Veterans' Society, he has every right to criticize its Executive. However, there were certain facts of the situation regarding the sending of the Kurt Meyer commutation protest letter that we feel he should be in possession of.

The letter he refers to was given to the press as a statement of the Executive, and not of the McGill Student Veterans' Society as a whole. At the same time that the resolution was unanimously passed, it was further resolved that it should be put before a general meeting of the McGill Student Veterans' Society on Monday, Jan. 28.
This latter resolution unfortunately did not receive any publicity in the press.

The general meeting was originally planned for Monday, Jan. 21, and the Union Ballroom reserved for that purpose, but due to the work involved in the presentation of the brief to Ottawa, and the absence of members of the executive,
it was postponed for one week.

We hope that this will clarify the misunderstanding, and sincerely invite Mr. Clark to discuss the matter with members of the executive at any time.

Sincerely,
LEN STARKEY,
For the Executive
McGILL STUDENT VETERANS' SOCIETY.

IN AGREEMENT
The Editor, McGill Daily,
Dear Sir,—Regarding a letter printed in your paper from ex-Lieut. D. W. Clary today, I would like to show he is definitely not alone in the ideas he puts forward.
I, for one, am in complete agreement with him when he says "it would appear that the executive (of the M.S.V.S.) has acted in a high handed and highly improper manner."

course of action taken is radically opposed to all established concep-

Moreover, I feel that the charac-the "seekers for justice" with its aura of hatred and hysteria seems quite analogous to the emotionally-controlled Southern lynching par-

With Mr. Clark I feel that it is as a whole, that the letter of the executive be publicly and nationally retracted.

Dear Sir,—There is in the basement of the Medical Building a notice board for the use of all medsions in the past, many have found that notices which they have put up regarding the sale of books and similar matters have been wantonly torn off (small tags being left behind because the perpetrator was too lazy to remove the tack), and replaced by other notices, usually sports notices.

Today, Monday, I found that a

Redmen Defend Lead As MBL Schedule Nears Final Elimination Stage

Two Squads Battle Tomorrow To Decide First Place Winner

On Wednesday night the McGill Senior Basketball team will go into action against Y.M.H.A. The game was to have been played against Georgians, but the Drummond St. team begged off because of sickness.

This is a crucial game in the series, for if the Redmen win they will be assured of first place in the league. The opposition, in the form of Murray Waxman, the league's highest scorer, Leo Rosentzweig, and former McGill star, and many others will be hard to beat, but the Red team feels confident of victory.

It should be noticed that this year's postponement by the Georgians is a far cry from last season's play when the McGill squad, though riddled by injuries was forced to play in the finals, and lost crucial games because of this factor.

On deck for the Redmen will be such old reliables as George Davidson, Marty Goodwin and Ronnie Bower who will materially aid the team in its battle. Also present will be Phil Weisberg, former Shipmate, and a strong man on any lineup.

The Y.M.H.A. squad is up near the top of the league by virtue of fast play and accurate shooting, and although second to the Red team in standing, the Mount Royal Street gang defeated them in the last game between the two; so that this next game should show some of the finest basketball to be seen in Montreal.

No write-up on the cage game in these parts would be complete without special mention for Sam Roth. The speedy Engineer has shown great form with the McGill Seniors during the past two years and has proved to be the mainstay of the team. While a newcomer to the squad, in the person of Pete Finlay, has also shown himself to be a decided asset, and may very well be the reason for the smiles exhibited throughout the season by Coach Lou Davies.

Intermediates Vie For Four-pointer With St. Willibrord

Cage Squad Requires Victory To Maintain First Place Margin

Tomorrow night the Intermediate cagers lock up in a battle with one of their closest competitors for the league title, when they oppose the St. Willibrord squad. The third place Saints have dropped but three decisions and can be expected to push the Redmen to the limit.

Ronnie Rutherford's boys, however, are going all out to take this game which is for four points and so pass the slumping Dawsonites. Paced by Beauregard and Allan, the Redmen have established themselves as the pick of the circuit and will be hard to stop.

Since dropping their opening start, the seconds have been impossible to stop and have been moulded under Rutherford's capable hands in to a smooth functioning squad. Davine has shown great promise and though the loss of Lefcoe hurt somewhat, this obstacle was also surmounted.

McGILL AND DAWSON
Heading down the home-stretch, it looks like a two-way battle between McGill and Dawson. Dawson almost blew a disputed one-point margin victory to Sir George Williams. This game will be replayed. However, the St. Jean boys have not shown so well in the last two games and might easily be upset in their next few games. The schedule ends shortly and a playoff will be held for the league championship.

SPORT FLASHES

by
CONNIE SHATNER

IN OUR OPINION

During the war, students at McGill longed for the resumption of intercollegiate sports and the resultant college spirit. Now with the arrival of peace, we once more have the sports but sad to say not the spirit.

We noticed at the game last Friday, that the majority of cheers and support came from the west side of the Forum. Though their team was not even close to McGill after the first few minutes, the supporters of Les Carabins gave vocal encouragement to their favorites down to the final bell. On the McGill side of the rink, things were strangely quiet, except for a few sporadic outbursts in the early stages of the game. The Red and White cheer leaders were conspicuous by their absence.

This year McGill has been fortunate to have pretty good squads carrying her colors into the fray.

LOU DAVIES

These boys are giving their all and are entitled to hear the cheers of the student body and to know they are behind them. With the important cage and puck games still in the offing, there is still plenty of opportunity for students to get out and support their teams. Or, is it beneath the dignity of McGill students to cheer?

BRICKBAT OF THE WEEK
This week we depart from our usual practice of handing out bouquets and instead throw stones at Jack Lush, sports editor of the Queen's Journal. In the pre-game build-up for the Varsity-Queens game last Friday, Lush opened his over-sized mouth and as usual placed his over-sized brogan in it.

Discussing the Varsity squad Lush said "The loyal opposition have a powerhouse as indicated by their triumphs over U. of M. and McGill."

We beg to differ but a glance at the schedule will show that McGill and Varsity don't intend entering the same arena till February 22 and the outcome of that tilt is still in doubt. After all, who has Varsity beaten?—ONLY QUEEN'S and U. of M.

SOMETHING NEW
Coach Lou Davies of McGill has quite a record behind him when it comes to basketball but the time he remembers best is when he led a YMCA squad to Europe. Coaching Central "Y" in Detroit, Lou and his boys went over the "great pond" in 1928 and played the best of France, Denmark and England in a barnstorming tour. They had no trouble whatsoever in subduing their opponents. They visited Germany but that country showed itself not interested in sports. Sounds familiar. With all this experience behind it, it is little wonder that the Davies-coached team is perched atop the MBL.

HITLER AND YAWN

The biggest yell of the evening went up last Friday night, when a Carabin defender dumped Doug Heron. Doug had been dishing it out all evening and the boys from "the other side of the mountain" seemed to like the change. . . . That University of Kentucky team that clipped Western 51-42, was invited to Madison Square Gardens and smeared St. John's University, rated one of New York's best. The London boys must be pretty potent to hold them. . . . Out on the West Coast we noted that the UBC Thunderbirds, perennial Dominion finalists, played the famed Harlem Globe Trotters, barnstorming professional champions, and administered a 42-38 drubbing to the distinguished guests. Thank our lucky stars the Vancouver boys are not in our league.

Committee Announces Squash Singles Draw

The Squash Committee has announced the draw for the first round of the McGill Singles Squash Championship. For this tournament the following were seeded: P. Landry, D. Culver, D. Stairs, A. LeMesurier.

The following draw is to be played off at the time stated. If either player cannot play at that time, he must contact his opponent and complete the match by Thursday evening January the 24th or be defaulted. Courts are reserved for tournament matches at the times stated:

Intermediate Team Begins Schedule In Puck Series

Practice To Be Held At The McTavish Rink First Game on Friday

The McGill Intermediate squad will hold a practice tomorrow for the purpose of cutting down the size of the team. The work out will be held between 12 and 2 p.m.

It is expected that flashy Tony Dobell will be between the pipes, while such stars as Bridel, Smyth and Layton will be out front. In addition, the Red Team will be bolstered by Junior Smith, Ward Pitfield, Gordie Franks, Lockwood, Eaton and McBoyle.

The McTavish rinks will be humming with activity tomorrow when the bearers of the Intermediate banner turn out to prepare for the coming series, and the boys will be hard put to it to maintain last year's undefeated record.

PLAY BISHOP'S DAWSON

The schedule starts for the McGill team this Friday night when the Redmen meet Bishop's College at Loyola. The boys from Bishop's were soundly beaten by the Dawson Intermediates last week, but the Red squad is not expecting a walkover. The Purple and White team has had a lot more practice than the McGill men, and so a close game is anticipated.

On the following night, the Redmen meet Dawson Intermediates headed by playing coach Phil Henry. The Dawsonites, fresh from their win over Bishop's, will be out to gain another at the Red Team's expense.

USE LOYOLA ICE

All the McGill home games will be held at Loyola, owing to the impossibility of procuring Forum ice, and McGill students are invited to attend the matches.

A new addition to the squad is Doug. Eaton, a husky defenceman who should provide needed pep for the rear guards, and Mingle, too, can come up with plenty of bruising power if the occasion demands.

Arts and Science Defeat Commerce In Volleyball Tilt

Arts and Science II defeated Commerce I in the Inter-Class volleyball series yesterday.

The Arts team showed too much form for the Accountants to take colour!), the plumbing was put in working order, temporarily, and the street lamp in front of Miss Saunders' was mysteriously (?) broken.

Skating conditions promise to be excellent, so we'll see you all at Shawbridge next weekend, and let's not have the girls so outnumbered again—eh, men!!

McGill Plays Les Carabins This Saturday

St. Laurent Arena Locale of Match; Deigler May Play

Next Saturday afternoon, January 26, the McGill senior hockey team will be out to repeat its win over the University of Montreal squad when they tackle Les Carabins at the St. Laurent rink.

This game will be a harder one for the Redmen as the U. of M. team will be playing on home ice. Moreover, the St. Laurent rink is smaller and uses natural ice; all of which may place difficulties in the way of the boys from McGill. Coach Campbell, however, with such stalwarts as 5 goals Pierson and "Goose Gosselin" on hand is little worried about the final outcome.

The general consensus of opinion among the team after the last game was that they could have beaten Les Carabins by a larger score than the one that was racked up, and so after a week's more practice they should be in a good position to realize that statement.

DEIGLER OUT

A new man, in the person of Deigler has shown up for the Red squad. He formerly played for Oshawa Generals and for the Boston Olympics of the American League. A husky ex-right winger, he is now trying out for a defence position on Coach Campbell's squad, and should prove a welcome addition to the Red outfit.

On the Oshawa team he was on a line with the late Red Tilson who was slated to play for the Toronto Maple Leafs before he was killed in the Canadian Army.

PORTOUS BACK

The rest of the team will be on hand to show their mettle, and it is reported that Dangling Porteous is going to turn out. This will strengthen the O'Connor, Pierson line and make it even better than it was last Saturday when it was the best line on the ice. The University of Montreal invites all McGill students to attend the game.

Floor Hockey League Starts Play Tonight

The Floor Hockey play, which has long been anticipated, gets underway tonight when the opening guns of the season are fired.

The Commerce squad, which has been practicing furiously for the past few weeks, swings into action in the gym at 8 p.m., when it opposes the powerful Engineering squad. At the same time Arts and Science square off in what promises to be a battle of the titans. At present these two squads are undermanned and new recruits will be more than welcomed.

The play in this league will give a fair estimate of the relative merits of the individual players. These will vie for all-star berths on the club that opposes the Dawson winners. This contest is in the tentative stage and further results will be announced in the near future.

Two games out of the three that were played. The Scores read, first game, Arts 15, Commerce 3, the second Commerce 15, Arts 11, and the third Arts 15, Commerce 4.

The Commercemen stated that their reason for losing was that their volleyball team was not a volleyball team at all, but a basketball squad, out for a practice. But the Artsmen were adamant and the game went on. Well, that's their story, as for the truth of it, we wouldn't know.

These interclass sports are keenly contested, the basketball series is a good example of that, and a great deal of healthy fun can be extracted from them.

The schedule for Intramural Volleyball is as follows:
Fri., Jan. 25th, 5.15—Arts 3-4 vs. Com. 2; Eng. 2 vs. Com. 3-4; 5.45—Eng. 3-4 vs. Com. 3-4; Med. 1 vs.

RVC Natators Chosen For College Meet

The McGill co-ed swim team has been announced. The students selected for the squad will go to Toronto for the Intercollegiate meet on February 23.

The team will begin practice today and at the same time the life saving course will once more swing into action. Those students who cannot continue with the course are asked to inform the manager.

Members of the swim team include M. Vary, A. Garneys, S. Fullerton, J. Hood, M. Crayford, M. Judge, M. Macintosh, C. Horsburgh, and B. Fenton.

Swimming is one of the major sports at R.V.C. and the members of the squad were chosen after much deliberation and competition. Altogether the manager feels a very competent aggregation has been collected and the other colleges will have their hands full to cope with the McGill mermaids.

Dawson Seconds Oppose West Hill In Cage Contest

St. Jean's Aggregation Plays Exhibition Game; Toy To Join Quintet

The Dawson Intermediate 'B' squad hooks up in their fourth exhibition tilt tonight when they face the West Hill Senior 'A' team in the Dawson gym beginning at 7.15.

For the first time this year Coach Chalmers can say his squad has had sufficient practice. For the past week the boys have been out each evening shooting, dribbling and passing. In their first tilt the squad was clipped by the Dawson 'A' team. Since then they have beaten Baron Byng 24-23 and Westmount 34-18.

WEST HILL STRONG

West Hill on the other hand has a fairly strong team too. They started off weekly but have improved with increased play and recently trounced the Westmount squad. The game between the two squads looms as a tough test for each.

The Dawson team boasts a new star in the person of Toy who uses to play for Central 'Y' and Westmount High. He will get his chance to show tonight but Coach Chalmers has decided not to change his starting lineup. This includes Thompson, Lang, Fraser, Gunn and Tamaki.

Faculty Hoopsters Resume Schedule In League Play

The second round of Interclass basketball continues this week with the play and competition expected to be close. The Med. II squads are favored to take the loop titles but none of their opponents will grant them an inch.

COMM 1B VS. ENG. 3

Today Commerce 1B plays Engineering 3 in what promises to be a slam-bang affair. The favored Med II hooks up with Science II in the nightcap and another close game is anticipated. Play continues on Wednesday and the game of the week looks like the Engineering II-Commerce III and IV match. These two squads are evenly matched and a fierce contest is anticipated.

The schedule for the week reads as follows:

Tuesday — 5.15 p.m. Com 1B vs. Eng 3; 6.15 p.m., Med 2B vs. Sci. 2.

Wednesday—5.15 p.m., Med 1 vs. Phy. Ed.; 6.15 p.m., Comm. 3-4 vs. Eng. 2; 5.15 p.m., Comm 1A vs. Another.

Thursday—5.15 p.m., Med. 2B vs. Sci. 3-4; 6.05 p.m., Comm. 2 vs. Another.

St. Francis Xavier Trims Truro Bearcats

The students from St. Francois Xavier are very proud of their team. Most of the players are playing for the local Antigonish team. This team is entered in a league along with Truro Bearcats, rated the best in the Maritimes.

Middlebury vs. McGill

Charity Festival Saturday Features Basketball Game

This week McGill is preparing for her second athletic festival, which will be held Saturday, January 26th, at the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium, with the feature attraction, a basketball game between McGill senior cagers and the Middlebury Team from Vermont.

I.S.S. CAMPAIGN

As usual McGill is working for a good cause, every penny collected at this sports fiesta will go to the I.S.S. The minimum and maximum price is 75 cents and it is a stag or drag affair.

Middlebury is the third American college to meet the Red and White quintet this year. But this university is not unknown to the McGill team, as Middlebury scored a victory over the Red and White squad, two years ago.

DEFEAT ST. LAWRENCE

The first college to come from across the border this season, was St. Lawrence University from Canton, N.Y. The two teams clashed on Saturday, Dec. 1, 1945, and the St. Lawrence quintet was overpowered by the McGill team by the impressive score of 52-31. The Redmen were the first cage team to defeat this American College this year. When Davies' boys met Clarkson quintet the results were not as bright, for the American squad trimmed the Redmen 44-25.

The Red and White Hoopsters are presently working hard for the opening of the intercollegiate league. In the opener the Redmen meet the powerful Western quintet at the Currie Gym.

English Professor: Give me an example of an unfinished sentence.
Bright pupil: Go to . . .

This Saturday night, the McGill Senior cagers lock horns with one of the most powerful quintets in New England when they oppose the Panthers from Middlebury College.

Boasting several players who are nationally known for their sporting ability, the Middlebury team is composed almost in its entirety of servicemen who have returned to their school work. The best known is Frankie Wurm, once a hurler with the Montreal Royals and the Brooklyn Dodgers, and who will return to the "Daffiness Boys" in the spring. After serving at Anzio and Salerno, Wurm is now an outstanding guard on the visiting team.

THREE-LETTER MAN

Don Means is another player of note. While at Lafayette College, Means won letters for baseball, track, and basketball. Now at Middlebury, he has developed into a sharpshooting forward. The only letterman back is Captain Russ Dale who played for the Panthers in 1942. He has served for three years in the glider corps. He has now resumed his place as leader of the Middlebury boys.

Coached by Arthur Brown, the Middlebury squad boasts an excellent record for the past few years and the Redmen will have their hands full coping with the Vermont boys. An interesting sidelight is that two Canadian boys will be playing for the opposition. Kyle Prescott, a native Montrealeur and of Montreal High, is one of the best guards on the team, while Prescott Carr, a Sherbrooke boy, is an alternate forward and has shown well so far. Both men are veterans from the R.C.A.F.

Intramural Hockey Temporarily Halted Due to Weather

The intramural Hockey League is working as per schedule, and hot competition can be seen when two faculty meet. As the skating rinks bore a heavy white coat, no games were played yesterday, but those games will be played in the near future.

So far, only one game was played in this loop in which Arts overpowered their rivals Dentists by the imposing score 6-2. Most sextets will be hot on the Arts' trail, as all faculty teams are well balanced and picked from good material.

The manager urges everybody interested to attend these games, to back their respective squads and create an atmosphere of enthusiasm and sportsmanship.

The schedule for the Interfaculty and Interclass puck loop is as follows:

Tues Jan. 22nd 5.15 Eng. 3-4 vs. Sci. 3-4; 6.15 Med. 1 vs. Sci. 2.
Wed. Jan. 23rd 5.15 Phy. Ed. vs. Com. 2; 6.15 Dent. vs. Eng.
Thurs. Jan. 24th 5.15 Sci. vs. Com. 1; 6.15 Sci. 3-4 vs. Med. 2.
Fri. Jan. 25th 5.15 Sci. vs. Arts; 6.15 Phy. Ed. vs. Grads.

McGill Wrestlers Win In Competition at 'Y'

McGill Wrestlers showed well as they took two matches in the provincial competition held at the YMHA.

Both Joe Sabbath and Sherwin Raymond won rapid victories over their CPR opponents. Sabbath needed but two minutes while Raymond took seven. McLeod and Guest were defeated by more seasoned opponents, but showed well nonetheless.

be encouraged, which would in turn provide employment and a comprehensive social insurance program would be set up over the whole of Canada. The program is such that if it were implemented, Canada would lead the world in this respect.

Counter-proposals by the Ontario government have involved a continuation of double taxation, and an invasion of the Dominion government into the provincial fields of social security. The effect of this invasion would be towards, instead of away from centralization.

Mr. Claxton spent some time talking to students who crowded around him at the termination of a question period following his address. He recalled that he had once worked on the Daily, and that at one time he had slept for three months in what are now the Daily offices. (His battalion had been quartered here before it went overseas.) He also remembered, with a smile, that the battalion had been short of a cook, and he had cooked an entire meal for 300 men in this building.

At a dinner at the faculty club following his address, which was attended by several members of the Liberal Club, Mr. Claxton accepted that club's honorary presidency.
